

Eyes Wide Open – David Washington

I was walkin' down by the river, watchin' the waves kiss the shore.

I saw you sittin' there, lookin' pretty fair; I wondered if I could get closer.

You said, "I need a ride across the muddy water

'Cause I don't swim too good."

So with my eyes wide open I offered a ride to you.

With my eyes wide open I thought I could do some good.

I didn't listen to the voice inside me, saying there's trouble in store.

You were lookin' kinda cute but there was something was under your suit

With the power to cut to my core"

You said," You really don't have to worry.

You have my solemn vow."

So with my eyes wide open I thought it would work out somehow.

With my eyes wide open I thought, "Hey, what could go wrong?"

So I jumped in the muddy water to swim through the current and tide.

When we got to the middle, you started to giggle

And stuck you blade into my side.

I said, "Why did you have to betray me?"

You said, "Just don't call it dumb luck.

With your eyes wide open you knew I was a snake when you picked me up."

With my eyes wide open,.. yeah, I can see your point.

Eyes Wide Open – 2

Well, that's not the end of the story; there's a version that's seldom told.
I didn't drown, I just turned around and swam toward the light of home.

Our lives are like a muddy river

Losing itself in the sea.

With our eyes wide open we set our bodies free.

With our eyes wide open, whoo...
